"General Funstor, will pursue the linc of active operations already initiated. It has been decided, after consultation with him, that he shall construct in suitable places extensive and permament camps for the inhabitants; inhabitants' camps to be constructed by hired labor with suitable sanitary methods installed under the supervision of regular officers. This both affords employment to many destitute, and tends to minimize the danger from unsanitary conditions which are aggravated by scarcity of water.

Under Army Canvas.

"Probably 20,000 are under army can-vas, and about 200,000 people without house shelter. Hope to give reliable data later today on this point.

"Subject to approval by the War De-partment there will be held here for special and temporary duty all officers reaching San Francisco on leave or coming here with supplies from other points. Scarcity of officers has prevailed from the beginning, and those here have worked with such energy and persistency as to threaten physical exhaus-tion. Owing to absence of department officials, especially military secretary, chief quartermaster and chief commissary, the entire situation has so far been handled by division headquarters and its staff.

been handled by division headquarters and its staff.

"The time has come to differentiate the duties, and hereafter the division headquarters will take charge itself with questions of policy, the general movement of troops and particularly the important question of sanitation. The department commander (Funston) will confine himself to the administration duties covering the various staff departments and the distribution of relief supplies. The two headquarters are together, and everything will progress without delay or friction. General Funston's work is of the most trying and exhausting character which will make the fullest demand on his energy and strength.

"Present indications point, however, to largely decreased demands the coming week, owing to rapid removal of inhabitants to country and adjacent towns. Many relief trains are arriving daily, the facilities for feeding the destitute have been greatly improved by the arrival today of twenty-eight cars sent by the chamber of commerce relief committee of Los Angeles, the outfit including its own transportation, forage, etc., and provided with cooking arrangements capable of caring for 15,000 persons.

Schmitz Wants Regulars.

"San Francisco, April 23.

"Have had consultation with Mayor Schmitz, General Funston, and the chief of police regarding necessities of the near future. The mayor urges that the army take charge of the large districts now guarded by the State militia. Apart from other considerations it is evident that the State militia cannot be expected to serve here any considerable length of time. The mayor informed me that he should ask the governor to remove all militia at one. I informed him that questions involving relations of the munitipal and State authorities were beyond the province of the regular army, but that everything would be done as far as present regular force permit to safeguard the interests of the city.

"It is evident, however, that within a week or ten days the situation will develop not only in San Francisco, but in adiacent cities to such an extent as to to make the corners, their mouths drooped at the corners, the
